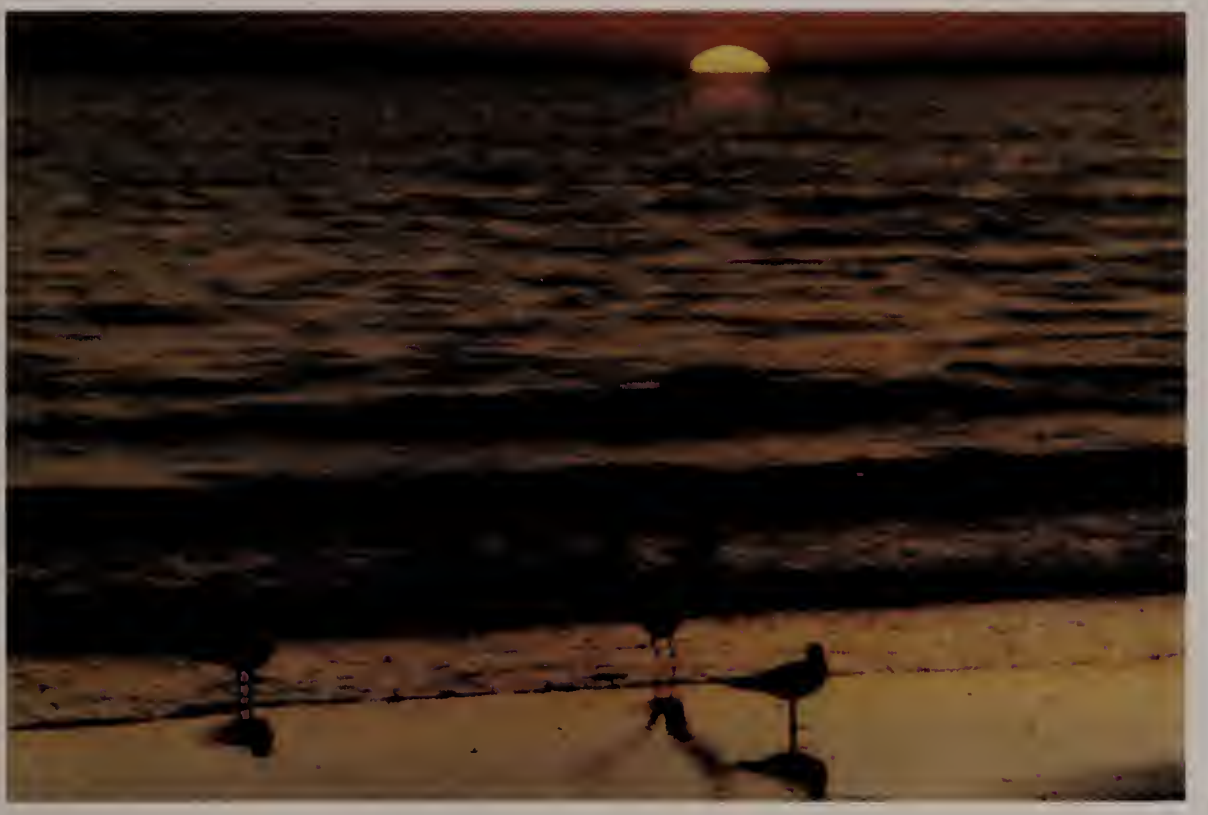
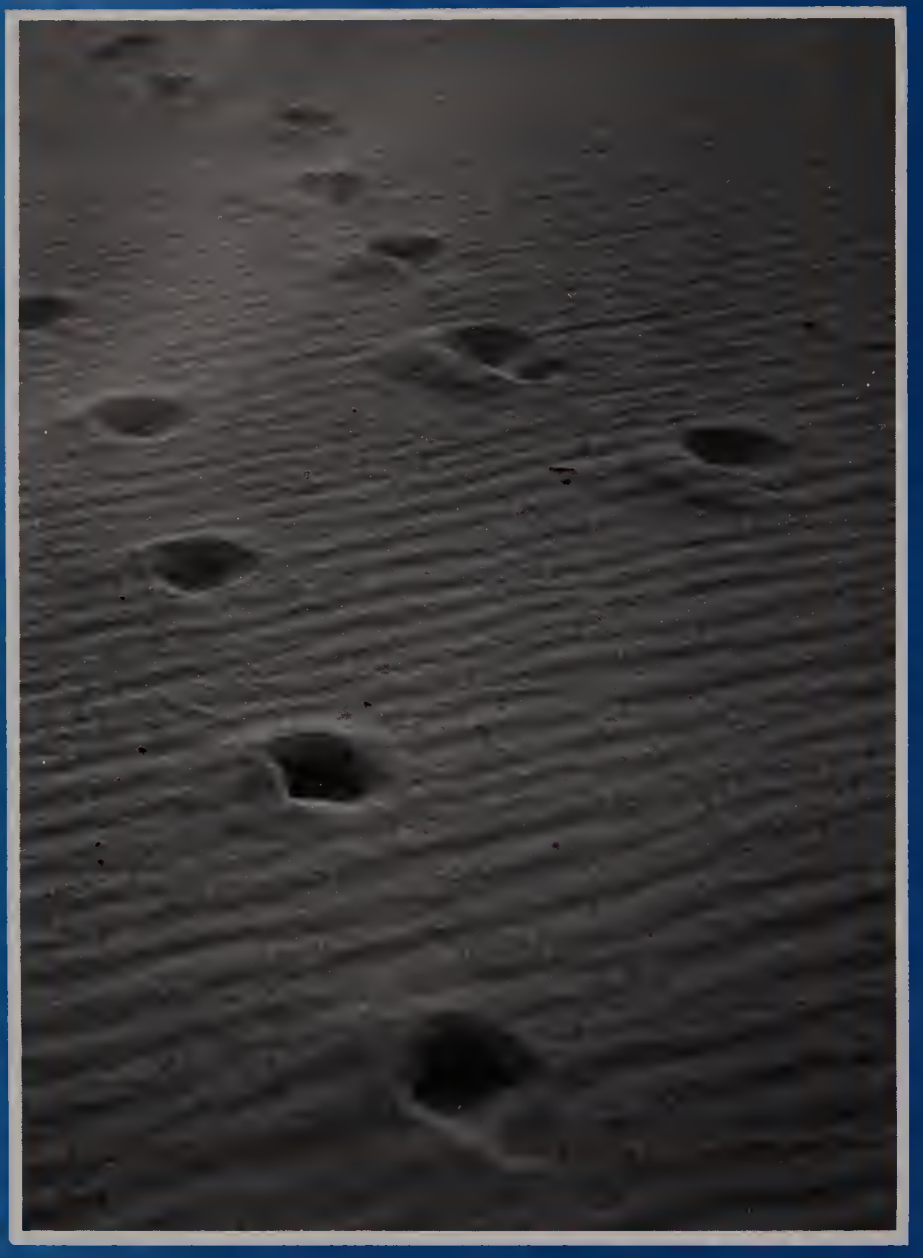
NAUSET





SEASONS

WE'VE HAD OUR LAUGHS, WE'VE HAD OUR PRAISE
WE'VE HAD OUR YEARS OF WONDROUS DAYS,
BUT EVERY SEASON HAS ITS END
SO IT IS NOW GOOD-BYE, OLD FRIENDS.

WE SAY FAREWELL,
  WE GO OUR WAYS,
AND TAKE WITH US
  THESE PRECIOUS DAYS.

TOO MANY GAMES, TOO MANY TEARS,
WE NEVER CAN FORGET THESE YEARS.

WE'VE HAD OUR FUN, WE'VE SAILED OUR SEAS,
WE HAVE OUR YEARS OF MEMORIES,
AND NOW WE TRAVEL OUT TO REACH
SOME NEAR OR DISTANT FUTURE BEACH.

John Gray

Mr. Ryan, my initials aren't here!

We must . . . We must . . .

Oh, the wrong goal again?!

You're kidding me?

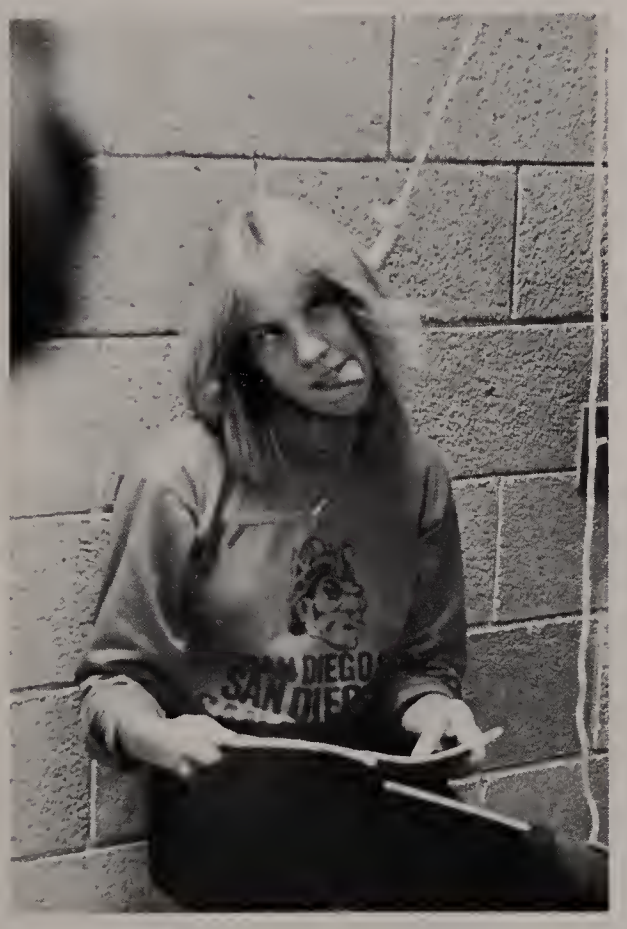
Gee, they didn't tell me there was no school on Saturdays.

Hold it guys, I've got a tick.

Go ahead Frank, I'm listening.

You may think this is an engine, but . . .

"You Betcha"



But, all she did was skip one class!

Who left that on the field?

DRAMA NIGHT

IN MEMORY OF
JOHN PATRICK HAYES
AUGUST, 1964 - DECEMBER
1980

The days will pass
The good times, and the bad, will be gone.

But we'll remember the people
The friends we did it all with
Maybe they were the best,
We'll ever have.

These memories we'll live,
to brighten our days.
For our thoughts and our feelings
Are with us to stay forever.

JONATHAN TUBMAN: Man is indefinable because at first he is nothing. Afterwards, he is his life and nothing else. Only he determines the answer, his nature. He will answer to no one but himself and is solely responsible for his actions. In this manner he enjoys the ultimate, he is what he wills, he controls his existence. Subjectivity is the turning point. Existence preceeds essence. What is is.
